MUSIC.

AT HOME.

The musical season rapidly draws to a close. The various societies are closing up, and will rest for the summer, until the quieties of another season call them more & together; and those happy singers and players whose exchanges warrant it are making their arrangements for Europe. Last week the Apollo Club closed its season very successfully, and retire for the summer, out of debt and happy, with brilliant prospects for next season, and a programme which will awaken universal interest when it is made public.

On Friday evening Miss Jessie Haskell took the field in a solo recital, in the public prints, to her departure for Europe. In addition, in which she was assisted by Mr. C. T. Root, Miss Watson, and Misses Carl Wolfschmidt, Eichmann, Mrs. O. K. Johnson was also assigned a number, but was absent owing to indisposition, her place being filled by Mr. Root. We understand that the sale of tickets was quite large, but the threatening weather probably kept many away, so that the hall (Standard) was but little more than half-filled. The benefice sang the "Prayer," from "Der Freischütz," and Schubert's "Erl-King," and Mr. Root "The Call of Gold" from "Faust." The "Tea-table Song" was also introduced, and was received with great applause.

Miss Jessie Haskell, in the concert was of a nature which does not fit her, and the concert was of a complimentary character. The audience was enthusiastic and satisfied, and the fair bridee was most cordially greeted. We trust the concert will be a success, and that it will induce others to present to us our old wives' purposes to contribute moneys.

THE ROYAL RECITAL.

The series of organ recitals, six in number, at the First Congregational Church, which have been underlined by Mr. H. Clarence Eddy, and the first of which was given yesterday, promises to be exceedingly interesting. Mr. Eddy will be assisted in this series by Mrs. Carrie T. Ringrose, the organist of Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, and Miss Clara D. Young, the organist of the First Congregational Church. With such admirable superiority, coupled with his own acknowledged superiority as an organ virtuoso, we may look forward to a very excellent series of concerto.

THE PRATT CONCERT.

We are requested to announce that the next recital by Mr. Pratt, concert organist, will take place on Friday evening. The concert itself will be given June 10, and the rehearsals already indicate that musically it will be very successful.

SCHUMANN'S MUSIC.

Mr. Weitzschke's series of Schumann recitals have closed, and, as follows to their performances, we print the following extract from a paper written by Mr. W. R. Matthews upon Schumann's music which will interest our musical readers:

The London Advertiser of the 18th says:

"Herr Johann Straube, eldest son of the famed composer, has met with equal success at the Renaissance, in Paris, with his three-set opera-hands, 'La Reine Indigo.' It was originally produced in Vienna some four or five years since, and Herr Straube subsequently was fortunate with three other comic operas, of which 'Carlo' was the last. It seems that it was Mr. Offenbach who advised Herr Straube to follow the career of a professional player, and he has done well, good, as far as the roads are pretty much the same.

He has now given up his studies, and is The amendment to the Postal law which Senators HANLON and RAMSEY and the express companies rushed through Congress in the last hours of last session has doubled the postal expenses of a number of merchants in New York. The Board of Trade of that city will try to have the law repealed.

The trouble between Prussia and Belgium is still perplexing the latter. The Belgian Ultranomists have skillfully worked up public opinion in such a way that the Ministry will probably be overthrown for its wise conservatism in pacifying, instead of irritating, Prussia by its answers to the Prussian rough notes.

A new horse-disease has broken out in St.
Louis. It differs from the epidemic in killing its victims. It is said by surgeons to be epidemic, so that its advent here may be expected shortly. It resembles cerebro-spinal meningitis, which has hitherto appeared, we believe, only in men, women, dogs, cats and chickens.

Two young residents of Port Jervis N. Y., have been amusing themselves lately by firing bullets at the passenger-trains of the Erie Railroad. Nothing was done about it until the two amusing persons sent a ball or two through the Directors' car. The Directors, who had endured the sufferings of the passengers with such heroic fortitude, at once had the men arrested. "The powers that be" must be respected.

There was a Republican Convention in Summit County, O., yesterday, which did a thing or two worth mentioning. It instructed its delegates to the State Convention to favor the passage of a resolution expressly condemning the third-term idea; and it declared that the public-school system must be preserved intact, and that the funds collected for its support must not be divided among "religious or other sects." It was a good idea to speak out plainly about the public schools. Attacks on them are largely due to the belief that the people are not interested in them. Gen. Brevard is quoted as saying that there will not be a public school in the country in twenty years; but then B. F. R.'s strength is not prophecy. He proposed his re-election in 1874.

A number of appointments to Gangership in the First District of Illinois were made yesterday. As the first lot of Gangers, who turned out so badly, over their places presumably to political influence, it would be interesting to know whether any other cause dictated the selection of this second set.
Civil-Service reform, in the shape of a competitive examination, could scarcely have been expected. The only suitable questions to have been asked would have been, "Are you honest?" and "Are you a good judge of whisky?" All the applicants would have answered them in the same way. But it is to be hoped that some care was taken to ascertain the character of the appointees, and that they do not owe their places simply to the fact that they paddled dock for some body some time.

Mr. A. H. STRAWN's paper has one of that veteran's breezy column-and-a-half paragraphs in defense of the Southern text-book from which we quote some passages the other day.
The Constitutionalist, we are sorry to see, defends the statements made in this book, one of which is that the last two amendments were "carried through by force and usurpation," which is equivalent to saying that they ought to be destroyed as soon as they safely can. We said then, and say now, that this is "proportionate partisanship," unfit to be taught in schools. The Constitutionalist declares that Northern text-books are too unfair and partisan to be used in Southern schools, but carefully refrains from supporting its opinion by quotations. The Savannah News, which makes the same charge and dilates upon it, pursues the very safe policy.

Although nearly all the news of ecclesiastical wrangling now has its origin in Germany and Italy, it really appears that there is no country in Europe where the relations between Church and State are more sharply defined and contested than in Switzerland.
There are now three different parties. On the one side are the Ultranomists, who will recognize the validity of no civil laws that conflict with the Church Government. On the other side are those who are resolved to maintain the supremacy of the civil laws over the Church, at all hazards.
Between these two is a liberal party, who do not care to discuss Ultranomist politics at all, but wish the church and the State to go their separate ways. The question now agitating these three bodies is one arising out of a decree of the Bernese Government in Jan. 27, 1874, banishing sixty-nine Catholic priests of the Jura, and all who signed the protest against the bish-ip. The minister is before the Federal Assembly and Council, upon a motion to request the removal of the bishop, and it is now awaiting the decision of the stated that the Ultronomists have the Federal Council upon their side, as well as the middle party to which we have referred.

Even some of the Protestants—particularly the French Protestants—have expressed the strongest disapproval of the ecclesiastical policy of the Swiss, as well as of the Fran-cian Government.

CARL ZERRAHN has come to grief, and GRIM-MOS is jubilant. It will be remembered that some time ago the fire-prisoner GRIMMOS gave a Jubilee at Boston, of which, in large part, Mr. ZERRAHN was conductor. GRIMMOS attended to the anvil and cannon business, and the "Hall Columbus," fap-doodle music; but whatever music was good for anything was produced under ZERRAHN's baton. The Jubilee made a great noise, but did not make any money. On the other hand, it lost a great deal of money, and left the Boston hotel men, railroad men, and others who had guaranteed the affair, out of pocket. When settling-day came, there was a dispute between GRIMMOS and ZERRAHN as to the value of the latter's services. It was left out to experts, and they couldn't agree, the awards running all the way from ten cents to ten thousand dollars. Then ZERRAHN split the difference, and went to the courts and demanded $5,000. The litigation was a long one; but the Court, having no music in its soul, has brought grief to CARL's heart and joy to PATRICK's, by deciding that the former is entitled to nothing. Perhaps the Court had been caught in the guarantee fund.

The English Government having absorbed the Fiji Islands, cannibals and all, at one grip, a large and influential delegation is seriously urging Lord CARNARVON to take immediate possession of that vast and almost unexplored tropical island, New Guinea. The request comes from the Colony of Victoria, and the English papers are now busily investigating New Guinea, to see if it is really worth taking. One of them, the Telegraph Budget, has discovered the following facts: Returning to New Guinea itself, it is reported that a tropical territory of such magnitudes, with a climate described to be hotter throughout than the national sun, is really worth taking.

property in this city for taxation was $302, 000, and the rate of taxation 18 mills on the dollar. It will require that same rate of taxation and the same aggregate valuation to produce the revenue estimated by the Comptroller. But to produce the revenue needed to meet the appropriations asked for by the Boards will require that the rate of tax be increased to 24 mills on the dollar. It is useless to add to the assessment and then place a reduction on the tax. That would be no more than a mockery, and would be a mockery and a delusion to attempt to hide and cover up an advance in the rate of taxation by an arbitrary increase of the assessment.

The gentlemen who compose the Committee on Finance in the Common Council certainly know the condition of the people of Chicago, and their inability to pay increased taxes.
The citizens look to that Committee to report such a list of appropriations as will require no increase of tax over last year; and they look to the whole Board to preserve the financial credit of the city by a firm adherence to close economy and to such rate of taxation as may be necessary to meet the city's debts and necessary expenses.

OUR PERKIN.

We do not mean the unfortunate person who infests our pulpits and idiotic paragraphs on a long-suffering public, and haunts newspaper offices in the vain hope of preventing impartial criticism of his laborious nonsense.
This is not the Perkin we mean. He is not ours, and we trust he never may be. It would be a great sin on our part that could deserve such punishment. We use the word "our" in a national sense. America's Perkin is CHARLES ALLEN D., the member of the American diplomatic service who married the Princess ISABELLA DE ALARCÓN and something-or-other else Bourbon, and thus became as their master, a minister of the Gospel. In the later capacity, his duty is to preach the Bible to his people. The Bible says: "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."
And in a national sense. The Perkin deserves such punishment.

In view of the amendment to the Postal law which
postal expenses of a number of merchants in
will try to have the law repealed.

The bearings of the case are not so important, however, as their bearing upon him personally as a man and as a minister of the Gospel. In the latter capacity, his duty is to preach the
shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor."
such punishment.

THE ATTENDANCE WAS LARGE. The audience equaling in numbers any that attended the best matches of last season. There could not have been less than 5,000 people present. The grand stand was occupied in every respect, many.

LADIES OF HIGH SOCIAL POSITION being noticeable therein. In this connection it may be remarked that the game has lost none of the old-time interest to its lady devotees, as was shown by the fact that many of those present were recognized as former frequenters of the Centennials in the early days of the game, even as far back as 1860. George W. Johnson, the author himself to Dexter Park, and the Lake-Shore Park, to witness the notable contests of Chicago's first base-ball season. The seats at each side were occupied by throngs less select, perhaps, but equally as zealous and interested.

THE DAY. His West Lake, the author of "The Day," made an appearance before the game, and the audience gave him a hearty welcome.

THE CONTEST WILL BE ABANDONED at the end of the sixth inning, the score then standing in favor of the Whites by 2 to 1. The audience, however, was not disposed to leave the game, as such an unexpected score, and the game was continued. The spectators had temporarily kept their seats, hoping that the storm would speedily be over. As if in answer to the general cheer, the rain ceased, and the playing was resumed.

THE GAME. On the part of the Chicagoans was a fine one—the home team, however, did not play their best. While it did not indicate any great strength at the bat, it furnished a display of fielding of the very best order. There were three or four times when they were beaten, but still held their own, and even more than once, when they were beaten, they did not lose a ball, and the playing was recom-

ENDED. The game was poor, but not less than 2,000 persons, including the spectators, were present.

THE SHOUT VICTORY.

The only new thing in reference to the Indian Dodge, is that Spotted Fox has donned his spurs suit. It is a black velvet suit, with cut ornaments, a pair of blue flannel pants, and a wide round-top hat of the latest style.

THE NEW STEAMSHIP LINE.

The Intercolonial Line has arrangements for runs, their being between Baltimore and Liverpool. It is understood, that two round voyages are proposed as experimental trips, the first to be made in the next month, and the other soon thereafter. The sum of $25,000 is to be guaranteed by those interested, of which the Locomotive Company takes one-half, and the Pennsylvania Railroad, one-half.

The balance is to be borne by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which assumes a share.

The Locomotive Company are owners of twelve or fourteen large steamships.

Should the Pennsylvania Railroad Company do all that they can, they will bring the project to a successful conclusion.

THE NEW INDIAN MINE.

Special Commissioner Dugan, appointed by Secretary Delano, to examine the location of the new Iron Mines and the Panuco Grande claim, has submitted his report to the Secretary, who will remember that the resolution of request for the information was bitterly opposed by the friends of the New India Mining Company, while the other side advocated the resolution.

It is an opinion of mine, and it is therefore difficult to approach a place without knowing what is to be done.

It is reported that Gen. Meigs has been granted leave to withdraw the United States troops from Texas.

Texans who are here say the withdrawal of the United States troops would give such an impulse to volunteer companies as would be hard to resist.
